

1    Abstract of Disclosure

2    A reclining apparatus is provided between a post and a seat of a chair.
3    The reclining apparatus includes a first joint for attachment to the post, a
4    second joint pivotally connected with the first joint for supporting the seat
5    and a locking device for locking the second joint in one of several 6    reclined positions relative to the casing.

7

8